

Banneker-Douglass Museum
PRESENTS

*Loring Cornish: Selections from
'In Each Other's Shoes'*

Artist Talk

February 19, 2012 10:30 a.m.-Noon

Discover the shared heritage of the Jewish and African American communities through the eyes of artist Loring Cornish. Selections from In Each Other's Shoes depicts the pain and pride of African Americans and uses his moral imagination to envision similar feelings in the Jewish community.

Banneker-Douglass Museum

84 Franklin Street, Annapolis, MD, 21401

RSVP by February 15th

Call 410-216-6181 or email BDMPrograms@goci.state.md.us

For additional programs, please visit us at bdmuseum.com

Refreshments will be served. Dietary Laws Observed.

The Annapolis Bus Company will run free shuttle service between the Congregation Kneseth Israel parking lot and the Banneker-Douglass Museum. Shuttle runs will occur at 10:00 a.m. and 10:15 a.m. with return service at 12:00 p.m. and 12:15 p.m. Space is limited and registration is required when RSVPing.

Banneker-Douglass Museum

The Banneker-Douglass Museum is a unit of the Maryland Commission on African American History and Culture — part of the Governor's Office of Community Initiatives.

Governor Martin O'Malley
Lt. Governor Anthony Brown