

My friends,

Thank you very much for your connection with Temple Beth Shalom. In light of the current economic climate, your support of our synagogue speaks volumes about your value for sustaining our Jewish institutions. You can expect that we will provide one that is warm, welcoming, and spiritual.

This year will be a very special one. Already, we have a number of extraordinary speakers coming to us. We are planning a family retreat. We have the Annapolis Chorale returning for the High Holidays and we have a new student cantor who will truly be sensational. I look forward to be spending many meaningful moments together

Yes, together we have watched a building go up. Together we have celebrated milestones. Together we have strengthened our Jewish identity, and together we have created a learned and passionate congregation. I hope that in the coming year, the sacred community that we have built is even further enriched.

B'shalom

Rabbi Ari Goldstein